

EVALUATING ONLINE SITES AND CONTENT

Who created and runs this site? If you can't tell, who do you think it is?

Why does this site exist? Are the creators sharing information, or do they have an agenda?

Can you find what you are looking for on the site?

Is the information on the site current?

Is the information on the site accurate? Does it include links to trusted sources?

Are there many spelling or grammar errors?

Does the site represent a variety of perspectives or is it biased? If it seems biased, who is represented and who is left out?

Does the site ask for information from you? If so, can you ensure it will be kept private?
